Confederate Dead.
Camden, S. C., 20.—The monument erected by the women of Kershaw County in memory of the Confederate dead was dedicated today. There was a grand military demonstration in which twenty companies participated. Senators Hampton and Butler, Governor Thompson and other distinguished men were present. The ceremonies of unveiling consisted of an artillery salute, a dedicatory prayer, an ode to the ladies and a memorial oration by Senator Hampton. He paid tribute to the faith, devotion, and patience of the southern women, and said, while the true history of the war shall be written, they will not only occupy the first place in our hearts, but first in honor. They would always repel with scorn and indignation the imputation that the monuments to confederate dead marked the spot where traitors slept.

We of the south were neither traitors or rebels, nor was our war in any proper sense a rebellion. It was strictly a civil war, growing out of the conflicting interests and the different constructions of the Constitution by the opposing sections of the country.
He maintained that the perfect union of states contemplated by our banners could never be possible.
If citizens of one portion of the republic are to be kept in that union merely on sufferance; tolerated in contributing their full share to the support of government, but not participating in its direction; of bearing its burdens, but not sharing its honors and feelings; that in the home of their fathers, they are but unwelcome intruders. He congratulated the country that the future was auspicious, that the scars of the war were being obliterated by time, and demanded that our former enemies do justice to the motives that inspired our conduct. He believed if the settlement of the war issue had been left to the old soldiers the country would have been saved the shame and humiliation of reconstruction, he counseled obedience to the laws and to the supremacy of the constitution, and said it requires only mutual forbearance, concession and generosity on the part of the late contending sections to bring about the result, and surely every statesman, every lover of his country desires to see this end reached, and it can be attained without loss of self-respect by any honorable man of the north or south, without any unmanly degradation without the sacrifice of an honest conviction or one cherished principle. The great questions which were at issue between the north and south and which were left to the arbitrament of war were decided against us; but the sword never has and never will decide a question involving the merit of a principle.
The final judgment as to the motives and actions of men rest with a higher tribunal than any on this earth, and to that last court of appel must every question of right and wrong be submitted.
For our convictions we are responsible alone to our own consciences, and to our good, hence there is no inconsistency in our giving to the constitution and laws under which we live, earnest support, while we hold in tender reverence the memories of the men who died for the cause we held to be right and just.
The oration was received with much enthusiasm.

Change in Time.
Ogden, Utah, 20.—The Denver and Rio Grande, A. C. H. and Santa Fe, and Burlington and Missouri River Railroads announce their intention of changing time jointly on July 1st.

Close connections will be made with the Central Pacific at this point, and the running schedule will be sufficiently reduced to afford practically the same through time between San Francisco or Ogden and Missouri River as will be made under the new schedule of the Union Pacific. It is also probable that a second daily passenger train will be placed on these lines east of Ogden, as all roads are in good condition, and competition in fast time across the continent seems imminent.

For SOZODONT all ladies cry,
And gentlemen, or high or low,
For nothing else that they can buy,
Will give the mouth its freshest glow—
Will keep the teeth so sound and white,
And make the breath a sweet delight.
